

HEIDI KING

Education and Partnerships, College Inside Track

Heidi King is a member of the education and partnerships team at College Inside Track, and speaks nationally about college search, educating families and training financial advisors and other professionals on the topic. Heidi works closely with financial advisors to provide education to clients and be the go-to subject matter expert on all things college-related.

Heidi is no stranger to the college process, as she recently went through it herself with her two sons.
